Enrichment Programs

- Honors Professionalism Series: Tough Choices Panel
  Wed, March 2nd, 5pm, Wilson 124/125

Applying to graduate and professional schools is a lengthy and exhaustive process, and most students have questions about the process. What happens when you get multiple offers? Can you ask for more time? What if a school is pressuring you? Join Dr. Lynne Goodstein, Director of the Honors Program, Dr. Keat Sanford, Pre-Med Specialist, and Rebecca Flanagan, J.D., Pre-Law Specialist for a candid discussion of how to weigh important options and make tough choices. This counts as an Honors Event.

For more information, visit honors.uconn.edu or email honors.events@uconn.edu.

If you would like to include information in the “This Week at the CUE” about events, information sessions or workshops taking place in the CUE, please send an email to cueinfo@uconn.edu. Information is needed at least one week in advance.
The Quantitative Learning Center (Q Center) is a resource for students taking quantitative intensive courses (Q) across the undergraduate curriculum. The Q Center is designed to support in-class learning and instruction by providing assistance to students via free drop-in peer tutoring, review sessions, and the creation of innovative learning tools. We assist Q faculty to incorporate best practices in their teaching, and serve as a clearinghouse for information about Q resources and discussion of Q issues within the university.

As a reminder, the Q Center is located on first floor of the Homer Babbidge Library, our hours of tutoring operations are Monday through Thursday, 11am to 11pm and Sundays, 1pm to 11pm, and we offer tutoring for:

- MATH 1011 - 1152
- STAT 1000, 1100
- PHYS 1010 - 1602
- CHEM 1124 - 1128
