Writing Center

The Writing Center is now accepting applications for Undergraduate Writing Associates for the 2011-2012 school year. Students from all majors are invited to apply. The position involves tutoring student writers at all levels and from a variety of disciplines; tutors will also be involved in ongoing training and skill-building, and have the opportunity to initiate and lead projects around teaching, writing and community outreach.

Tutors ordinarily commit to working 8-10 scheduled hours a week during the academic year. Pay is $11/hr. Information sessions will be held for those interested in applying on: Monday, March 21st, 4:00-4:45pm Tuesday, March 22nd, 4:00-4:45pm on the 1st floor of Homer Babbidge Library, Learning Commons.

Applications are due Monday, March 28th at 4pm. For application materials and information, visit writingcenter.uconn.edu/working_at_the_writing_center.php. Please address materials and questions to Kathleen Tonry, Associate Director, at Kathleen.Tonry@uconn.edu; 486-9104.

The Quantitative Learning Center (Q Center) is a resource for students taking quantitative intensive courses (Q) across the undergraduate curriculum. The Q Center is designed to support in-class learning and instruction by providing assistance to students via free drop-in peer tutoring, review sessions, and the creation of innovative learning tools. We assist Q faculty to incorporate best practices in their teaching, and serve as a clearinghouse for information about Q resources and discussion of Q issues within the university.

As a reminder, the Q Center is located on first floor of the Homer Babbidge Library, our hours of tutoring operations are Monday through Thursday, 11am to 11pm and Sundays, 1pm to 11pm, and we offer tutoring for:

- MATH 1011 - 1152
- STAT 1000, 1100
- PHYS 1010 - 1602
- CHEM 1124 - 1128
